Guide International du Vin Rosé - Electronique – LE GIVRÉ-E / International Guide of Rosé Wine - Electronic – THE IGRÉW-E may be the subject of several tasting sessions in a year and includes four sessions called:

- « PRIMA »: From January to March
- «AUGUSTO»: from April to June
- « ALTA »: from July to September
- « XIAO»: from October to December

For each session, the jury will meet as often as necessary and conduct a taste selection. The samples will be presented in an totally anonymous fashion to the judging panels. Upon arrival, the sample is identified by a label on the bottle indicating the name of the competition year, the registration number label (Producer - Sample No. Sample). Samples will not ring Cettie 35-100 TR or crown ring 29 will be reconditioned in a bottle with this type of ring. The implementation is done anonymously by bagging the sample to be presented to the tasters. The bag containing the sample is black baggy and color. The sample is presented without overlap on the bag containing the sample is indicated on a label, the anonymous number (jury, series and item number). The samples are grouped according to their category (type of wine) in series and mini-series in the series. The organizers reserve the right to cancel a category for which an insufficient number of samples have been received: three samples minimum from three different competitors.

Each rosé wine tasted is scored individually and not comparatively. The rosé wines will be blind-tasted and for their intrinsic properties. The total number of judges is decided according to the number of samples presented. The marking scheme is a point by point system as used in the official OIV tasting sheet out of 100 points. The Technical Commission of the Inter Concours du Monde designates nominally tasters members of each jury through its database of international tasters. The tasters selected to participate as a juror must belong to one of five panels below established by the technical committee. All tasters - Guide International du Vin Rosé - Electronique – LE GIVRÉ-E / International Guide of Rosé Wine - Electronic – THE IGRÉW-E - have wine tasting skills each at their college. Each rosé wine is tasted by a panel of five judges in a jury, each jury is composed by 2 French jurors and 3 foreign jurors at least 2/3 are skilled tasters. These are skilled tasters from each of four professional panels detailed below represent trades of the wine and wine. We will also find a juror of «oenophile» 'panel. The choice to integrate oenophiles is a deliberate because this panel reflects the tastes and expectations of actual and futur consumers. The internal regulations specify tasters designation modalities that juries and the criteria by which their skills are appreciated.

- Each juror is from a different country and the Technical Committee strives to meet a wide geographical dispersion and panel times.
- Panel 1: oenologists and/or winemakers; Presidents of the judging panels
- Panel 2: production and affiliates, Secretary; person working upstream of the wine industry: wine, laboratory manager, viticulture technician, glass, corker, printer, etc...
- Panel 3: distribution, commercialization & catering trades,
- Panel 4: education, training and media;
- Panel 5: wine lovers.

Inter Concours du Monde Association collects an affidavit stating jury members their links, direct or indirect, with businesses, schools, professional organizations or associations whose activities, products or interests may affect the wines entered. A judge may not judge her own rosé wines. Association Inter Concours du Monde appoints a president, oenologist or possesses an equivalent degree or having demonstrated a high qualification and experience for tasting in the wine business and secretary for each judging panel. Juries operate under the authority of the President; it may be a member of the jury. It provides, in conjunction with the Technical Manager, the Commissioners of the competition, the organizer, the overall functioning of the jury and the right tasting.
